From 1973 to 2016, the number of infanticide murders stands at 58,586,256. The crosses representing the unborn that go down to the space break represent those from 1973 to 1982. This means that around 43,566,000 babies have been butchered in their mother's womb since 1982. So 864 more crosses have been added to the above in order for us to grasp the full horror. Actually, even this depiction is 7 fewer crosses than are required. America deserves God's judgment!
